

I'm disgusted by the decision of the FCC not to intervene in the airing of Sinclair's anti-Kerry propaganda piece. It is clearly a donation to the Bush campaign. Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is also a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and there is a responsibility to use those airwaves to serve the public interest.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
